LEAN MANAGEMENT FOR ENGINEERING CONSULTANTS

Many precasters are successfully driving improved speed, quality and cost through the use of lean manufacturing and management practices. MJS Management has successfully applied these techniques to a variety of engineering and drafting departments.

- We now offer lean management techniques to engineering and drafting consultants seeking a competitive advantage by delivering improved performance levels to their precast producer clientele.
- Use lean management methods to improve design and drafting productivity, improve drawing quality, speed turnaround and achieve higher customer satisfaction.
